Scientific Industries Announces The Launch Of Another New Product

Scientific Industries Inc. (OTCBB-SCND), November 24, 2003 - Scientific Industries proudly announces the introduction of the MagStir Genie™ digital programmable magnetic stirrer. The MagStir Genie offers low- to high-speed directional and interval stirring. It is easily programmed for manual or automatic use according to customer preference, and all parameters can be stored in memory for subsequent use.

“The MagStir Genie is a unique blend of advanced technologies, effectively combining the features of several stirrer types into one compact unit”, stated Robert Nichols, Executive Vice President of Scientific Industries. “We are quite excited about the MagStir Genie; it embodies cutting-edge development along with the same ruggedness and reliability of our most enduring product, the Vortex-Genie® 2 mixer”, he added.

About Scientific Industries
